

Stacey Kirkpatrick, Director

Stacey Kirkpatrick was the past Chair for Voice Found's Board of Directors and continues on the Board as a Director. Stacey holds a Masters degree in Counselling Psychology and is a Registered Psychotherapist with the College of Registered Psychotherapists of Ontario She has a private practice in the Ottawa area and is the author of the best-selling book, "Milk and Cookies-An Intimate Story About Rising Above the Trauma of Sexual Abuse" and co-author of the International Best Selling "Women Who Impact." In her earlier career, she spent 17 years working for the Federal Government of Canada in various roles within the Canadian Hydrographic Service.

Stacey has volunteered with the Ottawa Mission's Discovery University program, Family Services Ottawa in the Supervised Access Program and at Western Ottawa Community Resource Centre in the Peer Support Program, part of their Violence Against Women services helping people leaving abusive relationships. After taking training with Voice Found, Stacey was drawn to the amazing work that the organization does and wanted to continue to support the founder's vision. Stacey has been volunteering with Voice Found since 2019.